Annex II

I. PURPOSE OF THE CALL

The general objective of the i-LINK+ Programme is to stimulate the collaboration between CSIC research groups and international research groups of the highest relevance by means of its own resources. No geographical or thematic restrictions are contemplated in the call, but there must be a common and complementary research theme between the partners for the development of which they have adequate funding independently in their respective centres. All these within the scope of the Sustainable Development Goals. The central objective of this programme is:

- to create and consolidate international consortia of excellence in order to compete in future calls for international R&I projects.
- to promote CSIC PTI+ internationalization

The activities promoted by this program are the realization of work and specialization stays of the CSIC research groups, as well as the research groups of the participating entities in both directions. It also includes meetings, seminars and other internationalization activities between the participating research groups within the framework of a common research project.

The expected impact of the Program is to improve the internationalization of the CSIC through the consolidation of stable links of scientific cooperation between CSIC teams and foreign scientific institutions of excellence.
